Experience

I live by the idea that art is a tool for designers. Merely solving problems isn't sufficient; it must be branded, well-thought-out, bursting life, and most importantly, affective.

Six years ago, my passion sparked. When I stopped hitchhiking, I realized I belonged in a creative field. I wanted to create problems and solutions alike. After these six years, I've broken free from creative limitations. I am jack of all trades master of many. My goal is simple: solve problems by any means necessary. I can understand a brand's needs like a well-read book and listen like an elder. I pave my own way, guided by both creativity and productivity.
